

Heritage Treasures: An In-Depth Analysis of UNESCO World Heritage Sites in Tableau

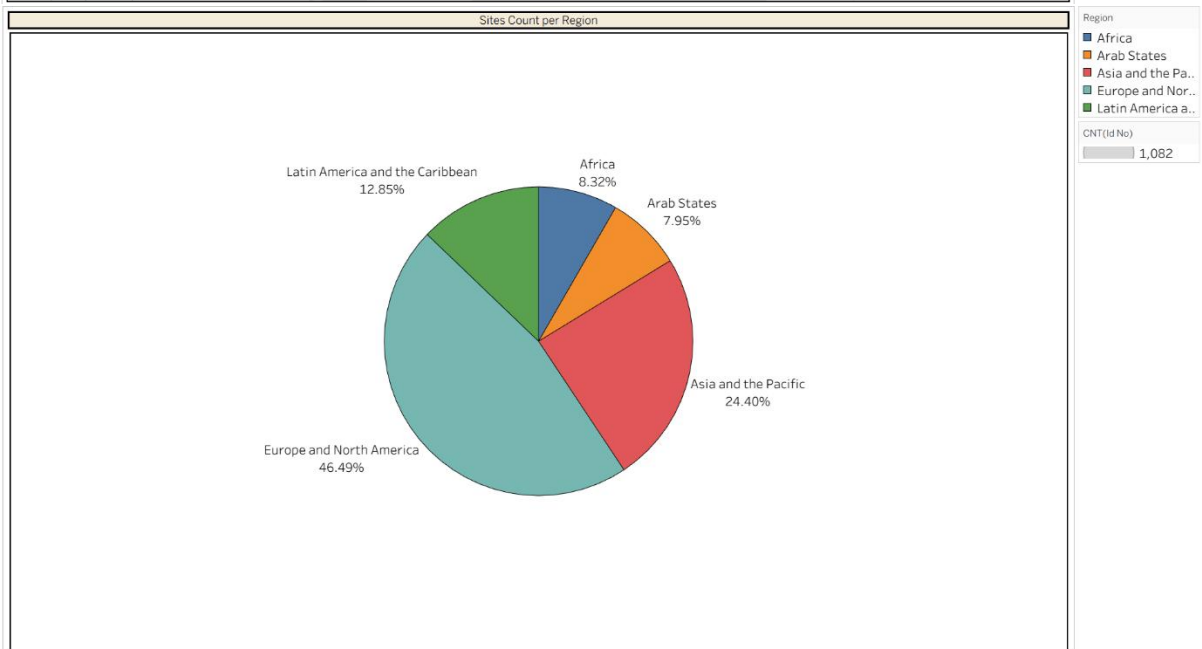

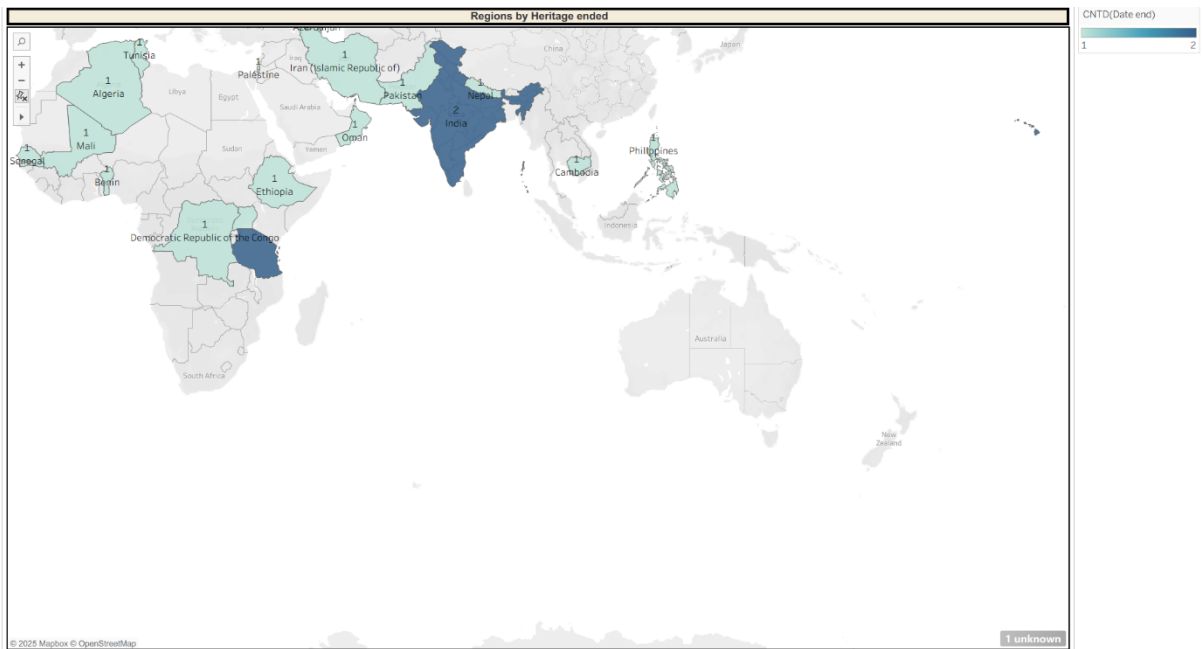

1.Dataset

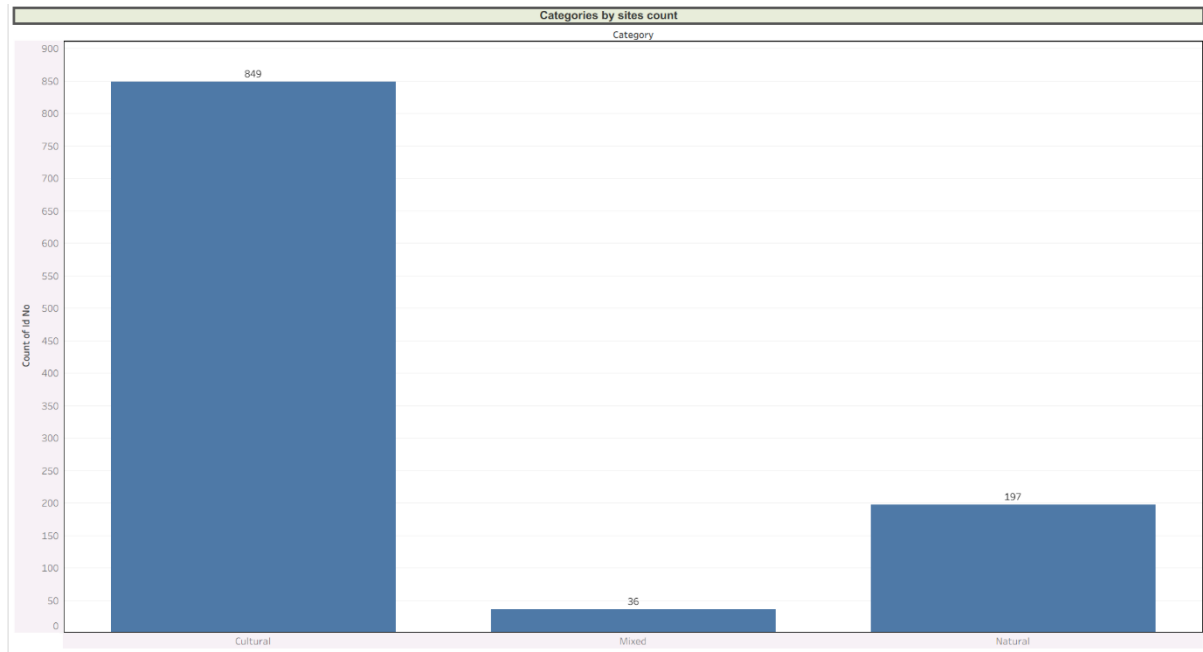

<https://www.kaggle.com/datasets/ujwalkandi/unesc-o-world-heritage-sites/data?select=whc-sites-2019.csv>

2. Data Preparation

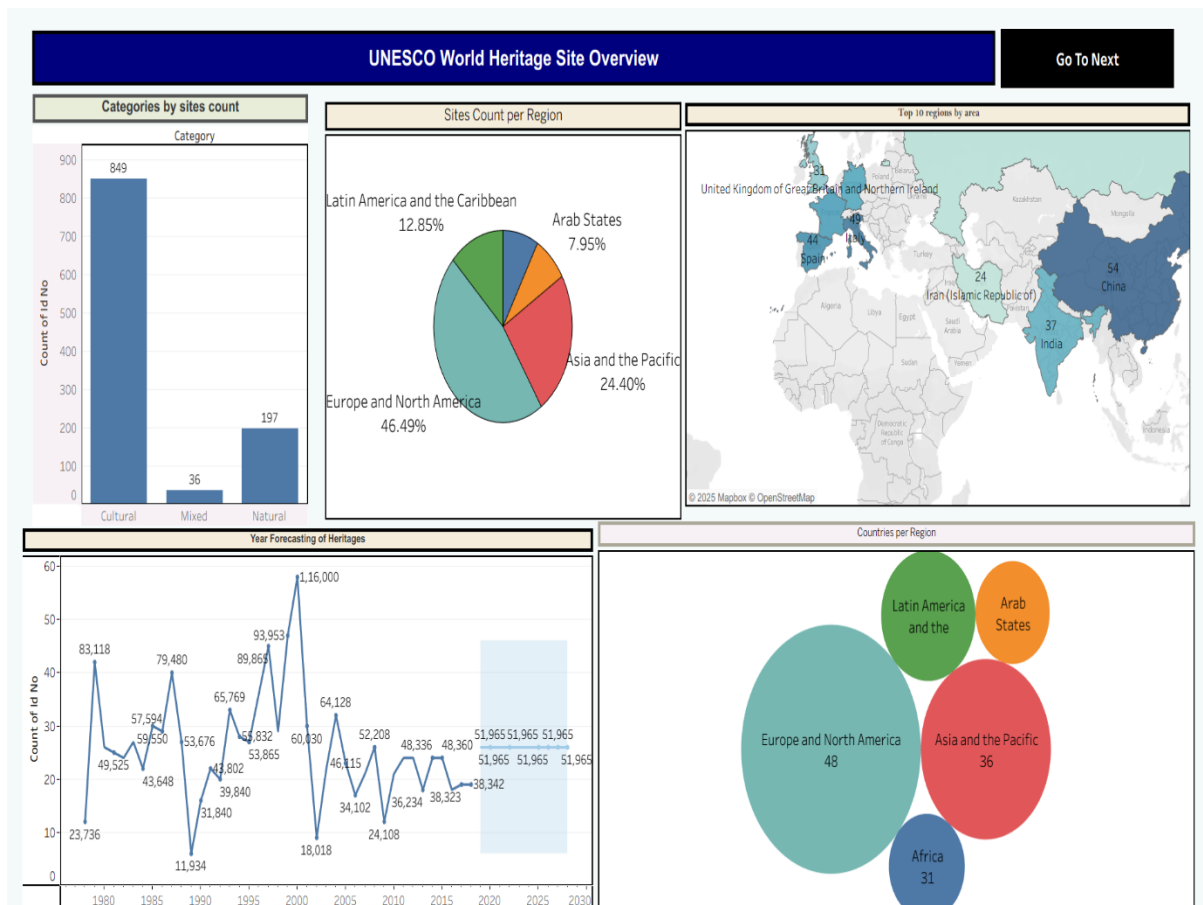

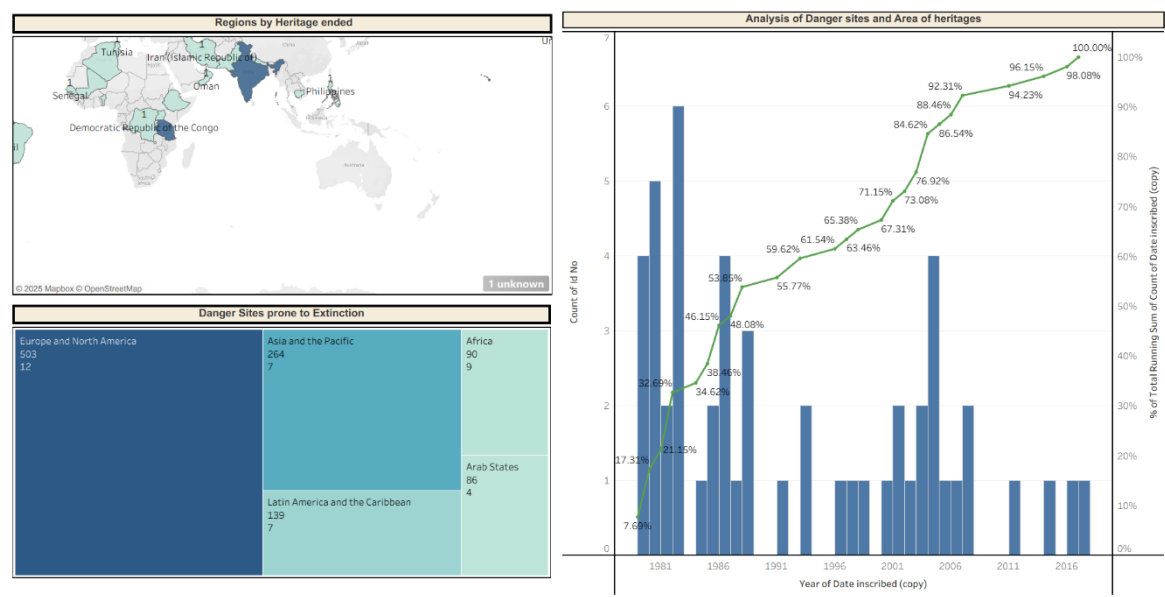

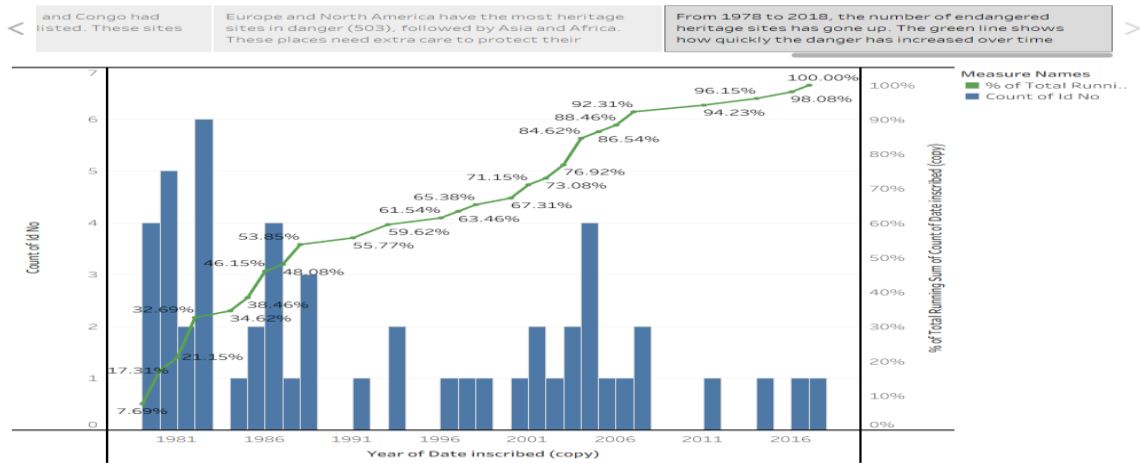

3.Dashboard

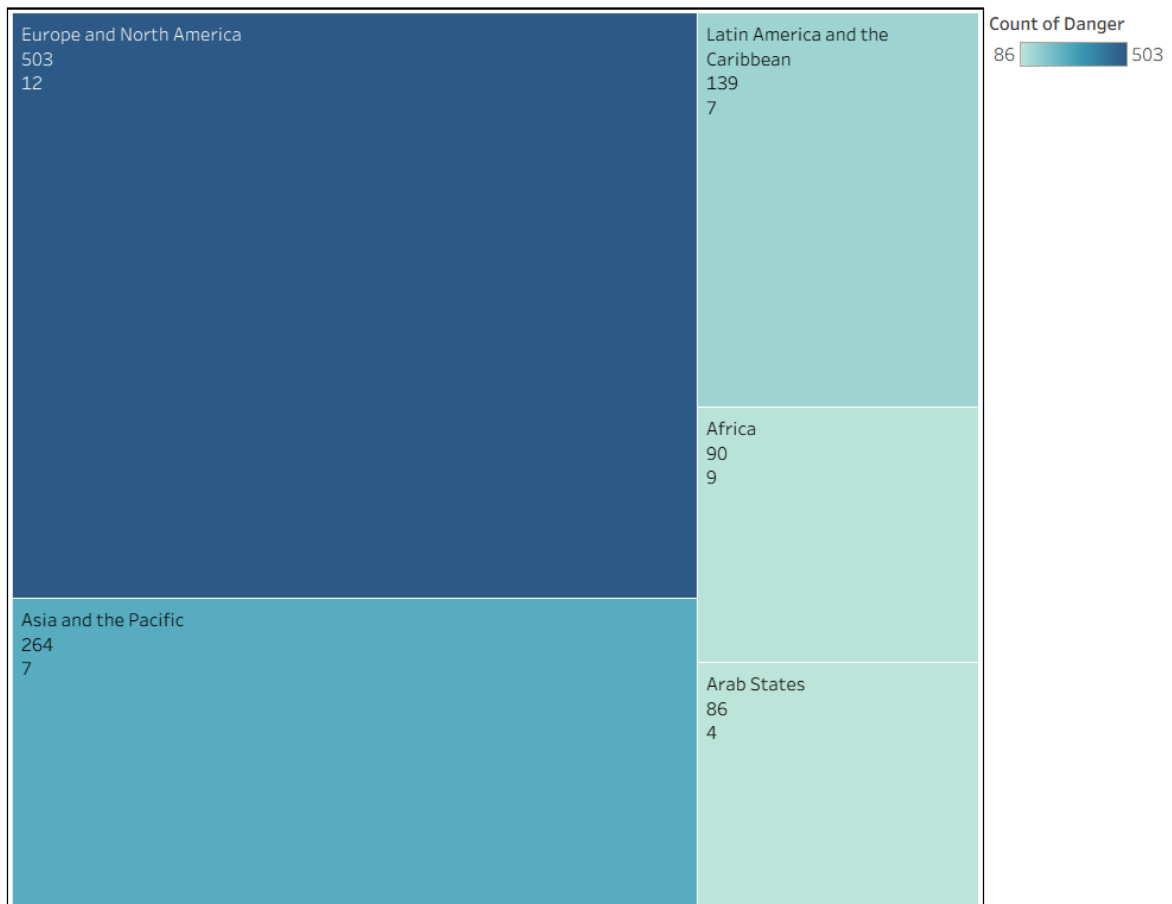

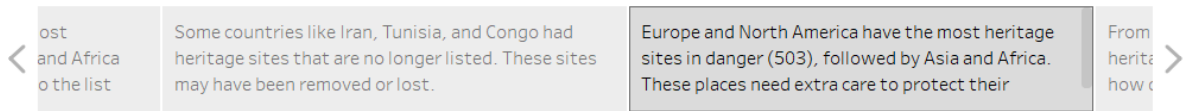

4.Story

Heritage Treasures

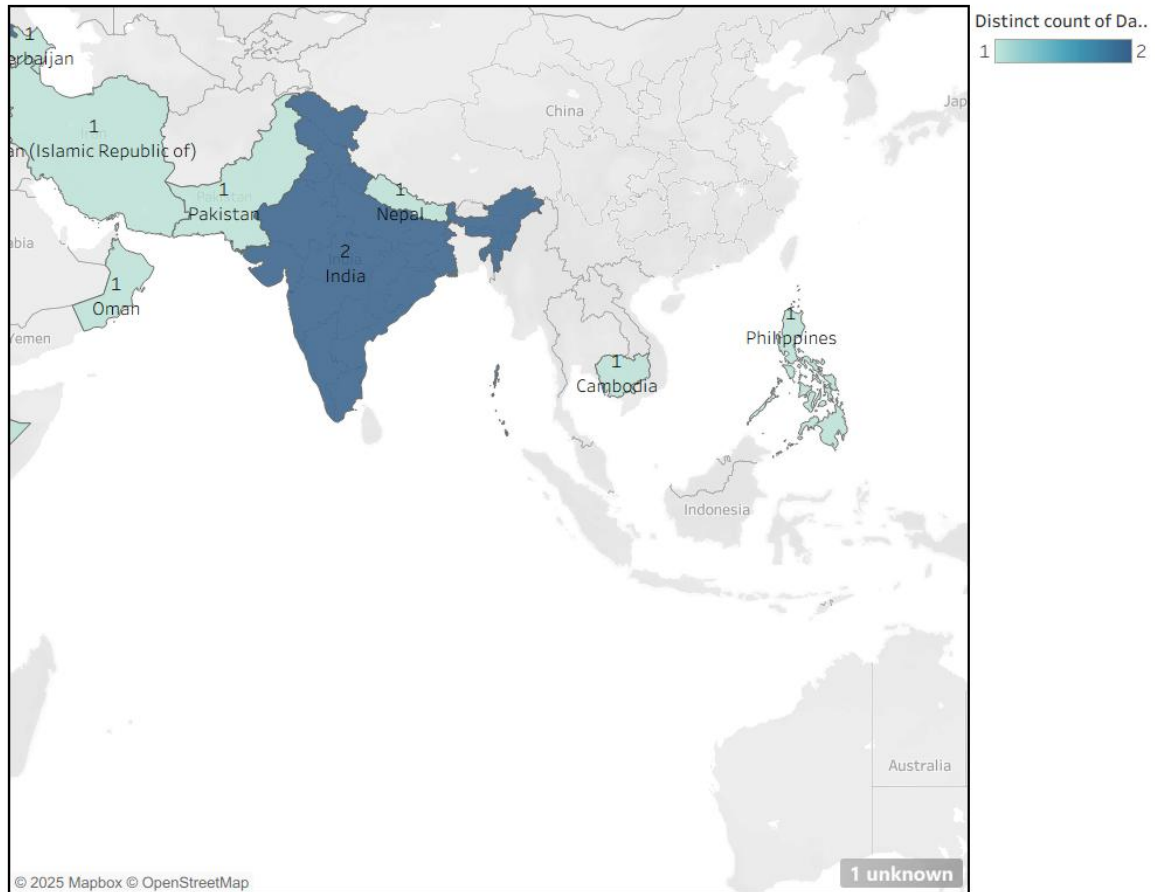

Heritage Treasures

Heritage Treasures

< Every year, we look at the list of heritage treasures. Europe and North America include the most countries with heritage treasures. Asia and Africa also have many countries contributing to the list. Some countries like Iran, Tunisia, and Congo had heritage sites that are no longer listed. These sites may have been removed or lost. Europe sites These >

Heritage Treasures

<

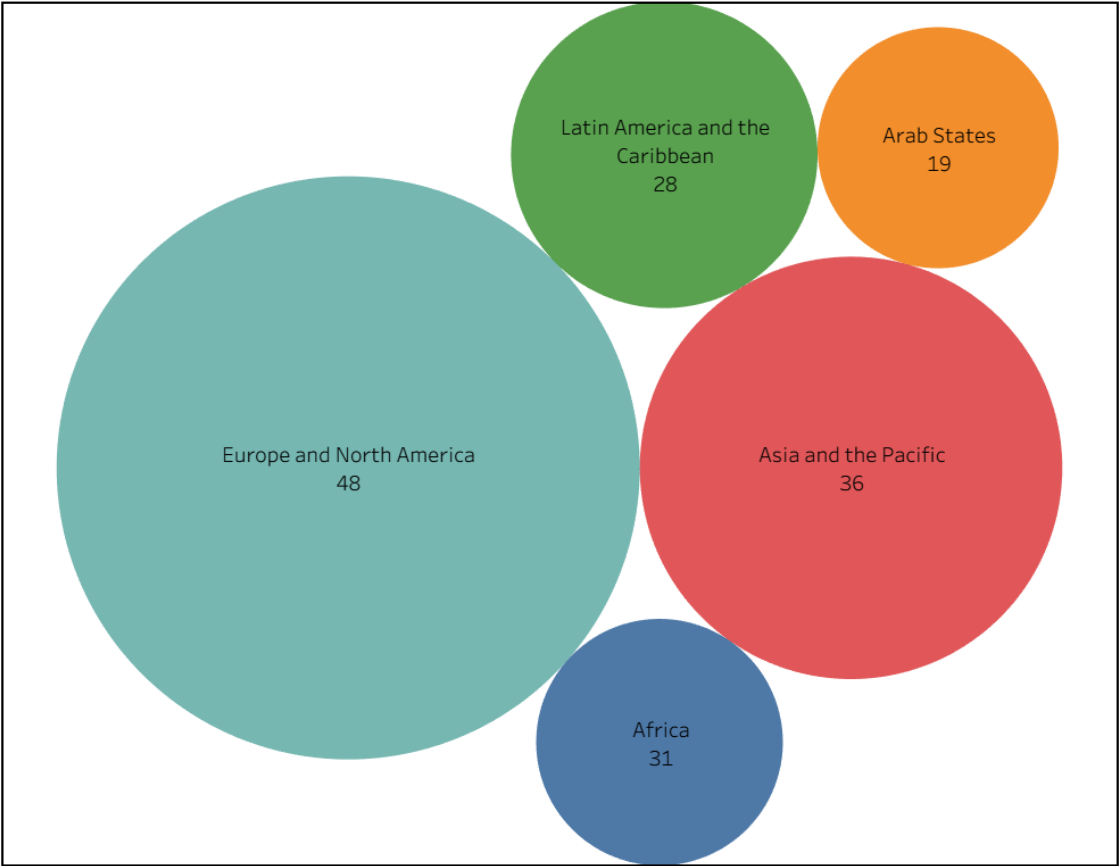

of heritage
Mexico.
atural

The number of heritage sites changes every year.
Some years saw big jumps, and the future looks steady with slight growth.

Europe and North America include the most countries with heritage treasures. Asia and Africa also have many countries contributing to the list

Some
herit
may f

>

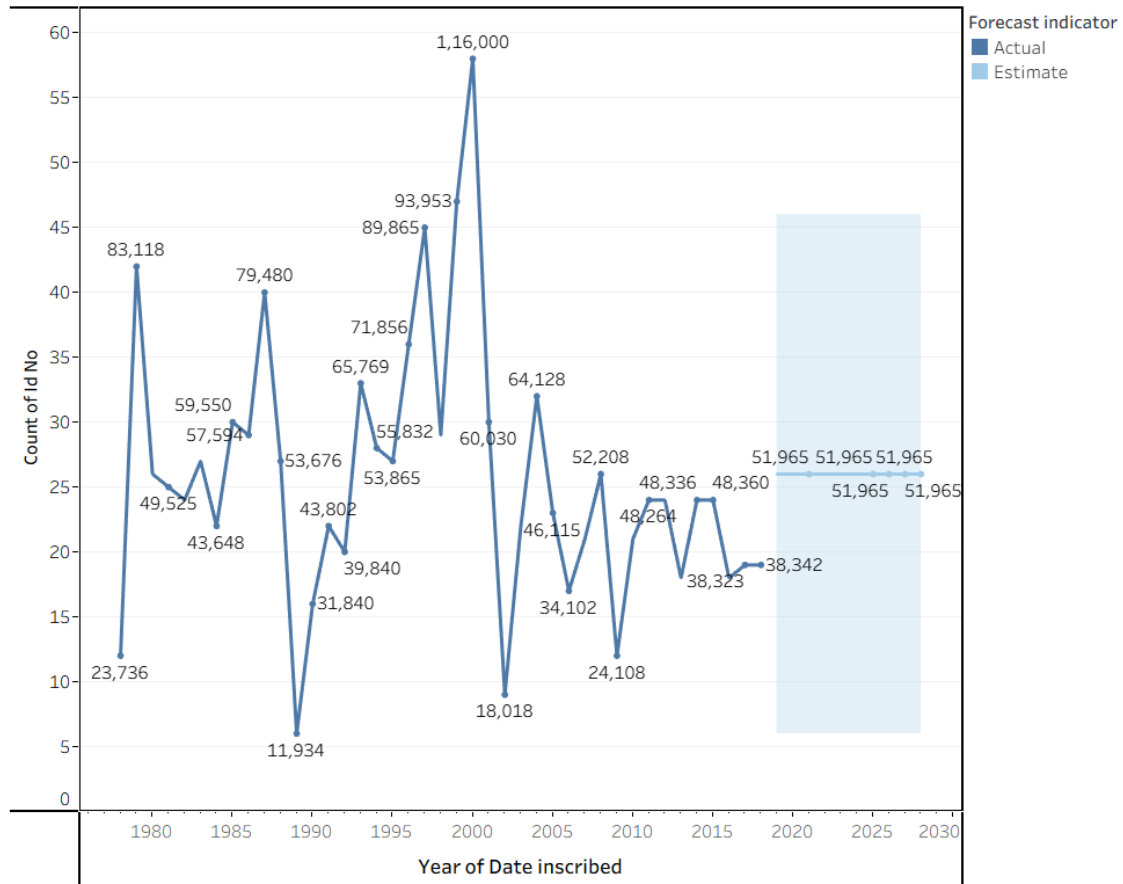

Heritage Treasures

< early half in America the total

China and Italy has the highest number of heritage treasures by area, followed by Iran and Mexico. These countries are rich in cultural and natural

The number of heritage sites changes every year. Some years saw big jumps, and the future looks steady with slight growth.

> Europe count also f

Heritage Treasures

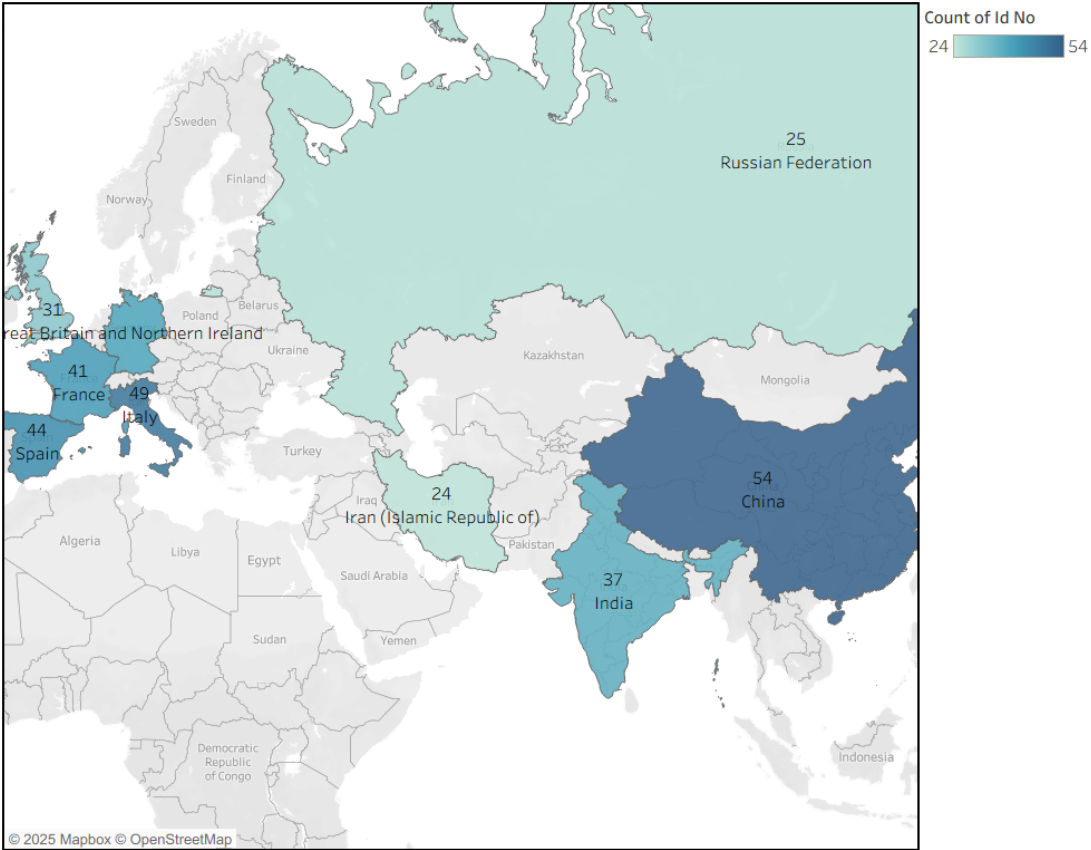

< 19 th

Europe and North America account for nearly half (46.49%) of all World Heritage sites. Latin America and the Caribbean represent 12.85% of the total

China and Italy has the highest number of heritage treasures by area, followed by Iran and Mexico. These countries are rich in cultural and natural

The number of Some years s steady with s

>

Heritage Treasures

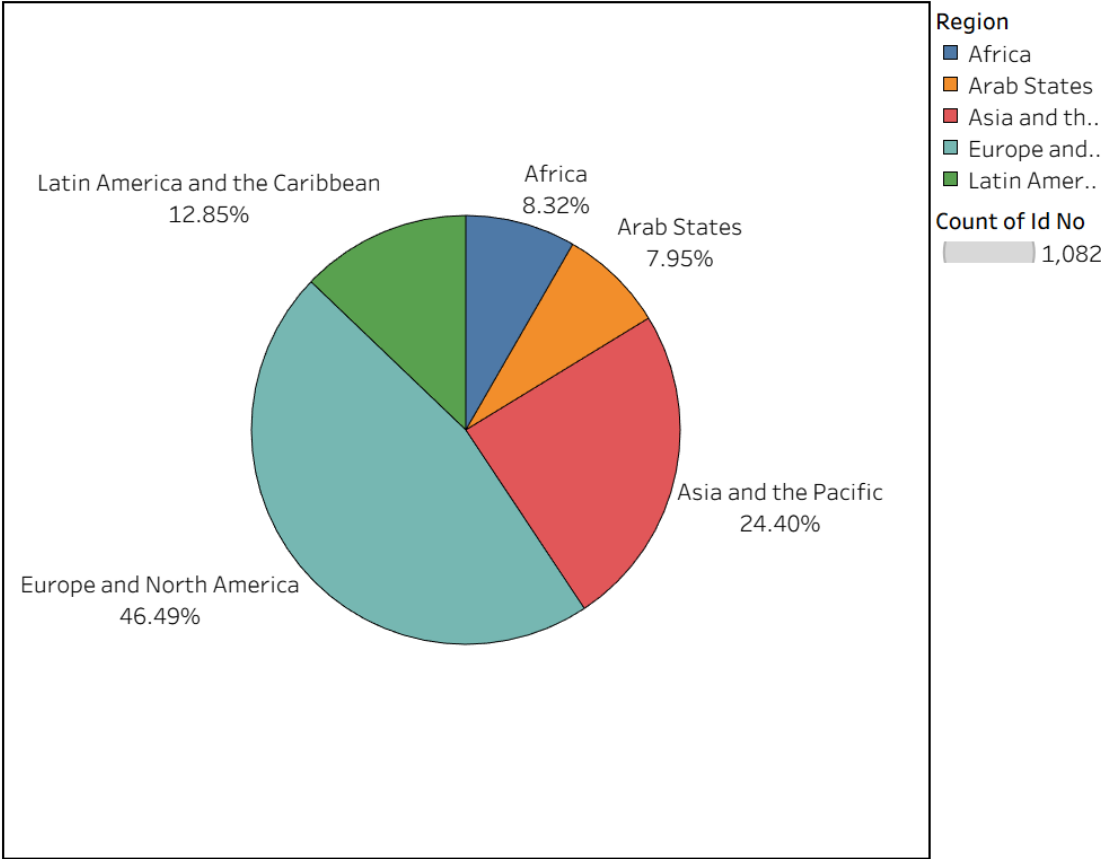

<

Cultural sites dominate the heritage list with 849 entries, highlighting their global historical significance. In contrast, Mixed sites are rare with

Europe and North America account for nearly half (46.49%) of all World Heritage sites. Latin America and the Caribbean represent 12.85% of the total

China and Italy has the most World Heritage treasures by area, followed by Spain. These countries are in Europe

>

Heritage Treasures

<

Cultural sites dominate the heritage list with 849 entries, highlighting their global historical significance. In contrast, Mixed sites are rare with

Europe and North America account for nearly half (46.49%) of all World Heritage sites. Latin America and the Caribbean represent 12.85% of the total

China and Italy has t treasures by area, fo
These countries are r

>

